STUDENT INFORMATION PACKET

The Toronto School of Art fosters the inherent capabilities of its students through an education model that revolves around artists teaching artists to help them make their mark.

WHAT WE'RE ABOUT

Over the past 40 years, the Toronto School of Art (TSA) has established itself as one of the most distinguished alternative arts schools in the city. While our history alone sets us apart, it's our ideology that truly defines us. We believe in taking an organic approach to the arts. This translates into a hands-on education model that focuses on studio-based learning. We offer students the opportunity to work with practicing artists in a close, one-on-one environment. What this entails is a rigorous study of the arts through a challenging, tactile application of every skill set learned.

TSA believes the arts should be accessible to all levels of experience. Whether you're a working professional or just starting out, TSA offers programs that address all levels of expertise. The only thing our students need to get started is a passion for their craft. Once they have that, our mentors are there to further refine, hone and cultivate their skills. It's this process of artists mentoring other artists that enables our students to truly find their voice and leave their mark on the world.

INCLUSION POLICY

The Values Committee is committed to developing principles ensuring diversity and equity practices at the Toronto School of Art. A mandate of the committee is to design policies that better reflect the demographics of the community it serves and to recommend programs and services that better serve the needs of diverse groups. Another mandate is to increase access to and opportunities at the Toronto School of Art for those belonging to groups historically excluded from power or denied rights enjoyed by others. Among those who face such discrimination are members of ethnic, racial, linguistic and religious minorities, Aboriginal people, people with disabilities, women, gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, seniors and, in some cases, youth, and people marginalized by poverty.

Our new school is located on the second floor of an old Toronto School Board public school. The decision to locate there was made to ensure the continuation of our school before our community dispersed, while there was still momentum to resolve the crisis of our recent closure. TSA regrets that physical access has been compromised for some students; this goes against our values of inclusion. The Values Committee is working to resolve this issue and planning access for all in the future.

We encourage students to use non-toxic products and/or materials in their studio practice. Instructors are responsible for teaching and informing students of safe studio practices, which can be practiced at home. All persons using the TSA facilities are expected to abide by these guidelines.

TORONTO SCHOOL OF ART CODE OF CONDUCT | Youth Programming

Toronto School of Art believes each person deserves the opportunity to learn and work in a positive environment.

In addition to our Code of Conduct below, we recognize and enforce Bullying Prevention to the best of our abilities, and encourage our Youth program attendees to spend time discussing what bullying means and how to be a good ally during their time at Toronto School of Art.

The Toronto School of Art believes each person deserves the opportunity to learn and work in a positive environment. Small classes, approachable faculty and staff, proper safety precautions, and a wholehearted commitment to quality education are the hallmarks of this school. Every person has the opportunity and responsibility to create a respectful, safe school. Failure to act in a manner that acknowledges the rights and the dignity of each individual in the school community may result in sanctions, expulsion (without refund), or dismissal.

AT TSA, EACH PERSON HAS A RIGHT TO EXPECT A SCHOOL ENVIRONMENT FREE FROM

- HARASSMENT including sexual, racial, and disability harassment.
- VERBAL ABUSE including insults, threats to person or property, foul language, shouting, derogatory or discriminatory remarks.
- PHYSICAL ABUSE whether real, threatened, or implied by word or behavior.
- UNSAFE BEHAVIOUR that may result in injury to a person(s) or damage to the facilities.
- INTOXICATION of any sort by any person attending, teaching, or visiting the school.

AT TSA, EACH PERSON HAS A RIGHT TO EXPECT

- Classes to begin and end at the posted or agreed upon time.
- Classes to be free from disruption including latecomers and cell phones.
- An environment that allows faculty and students to focus on the work of the class.
- Criticism of work to be delivered in the spirit of productive, positive, useful feedback.
- Prompt and courteous responses to concerns and complaints with action taken when necessary.
- Acceptance of the diversity of opinions, appearance, work, and values within the school.

AT TSA, EACH PERSON HAS A RESPONSIBILITY TO

- Behave at all times in a respectful and courteous manner towards others.
- Come to class on time, prepared to work, and allow others to work.
- Clean up their own materials and share in cleaning the studios after use.
- Participate in keeping the school a safe environment by locking doors, reporting hazards, and looking out for others.
- Inform faculty, staff, or the Board promptly of any concerns or issues.

- Toronto School of Art is a signatory to the City of Toronto Non-Discrimination Policy. TSA reserves the right to process complaints and redress internally in accordance with its policies or refer matters to the appropriate body, commission, or court.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR CLASSES WITH MODELS

- You can expect that your model is an experienced professional here to help you. Getting to know their name at the beginning and thanking them for their hard work at the end of class will help build a positive relationship.
- If you are uncomfortable with unclothed or clothed models, please discuss this with your instructor - if possible beforehand.
- Address any problems you may have with model moving, the pose, etc. to the instructor, not the model.
- Under no circumstances should any student touch the model, make comments or exhibit behaviour that could be considered as inappropriate or sexual harassment. Ask permission to readjust any element such as pose, drapery, or props.
- If you feel a need to tell models that you like their work, tell them by making a comment about the poses, e.g. "Great gestures". Do not comment on their bodies. TSA will not tolerate an atmosphere in which objectification and sexualization become factors. Remember, the nature of their work is their poses, not their bodies.
- Models and students alike who are uncomfortable with any inappropriate behaviours on the part of any person in the studio should see the instructor. It is their job to mediate any questionable situation. In Open Life Drawing Without Instruction, please help the model, monitor, and fellow participants create a professional environment by following the guidelines set out by this sheet.
- No walking on the model stand. It needs to be kept as clean as possible.
- Talking, cell phones, and especially whispering are highly distracting and insulting to a model who is posing for you and needs to concentrate.
- Photography via camera or cell phone for any reason is strictly prohibited in the studio unless otherwise properly facilitated by the instructor with the model's consent. The intent (ie. student reference material, documentation, promotion) for photography should be clearly discussed with all parties and agreed upon.
- Do not leave the studio while a model is posing as scraping furniture and clanging doors are also distracting. Models take frequent breaks, so try to anticipate. If leaving is unavoidable, close the door behind you to minimize noise.
- Any student unable to comply with these requests will be asked to leave for the duration of the class.

*Toronto School of Art has a Sexual Harassment Policy, a copy of which is available in the office.
Complaints of sexual harassment are taken seriously and if necessary a formal complaint will be laid.*
